

Shared Blessings, C.S.U.

Makukuba Village Christmas Party, 2014

They may not have books, but by moving letters around to make words into sentences, they show the crowd how they can read.

Parents, teachers and community leaders all get involved in the games with the children. Having fun and games together is a wonderful boost to the spirits.

Parents, teachers and community leaders all get involved in the games with the children. Having fun and games together is a wonderful boost to the spirits.

Shared Blessings, C.S.U. Makukuba Village

They may not have books, but by moving letters around to make words into sentences, they how they ☆ show can the read.

crowd

The children hold up their report cards showing they can graduate to the next grade. Most parents in the village will never read or write, but they want better for their children.

A Message from Moses:

“You may not realize how much your contribution is doing in Makukuba, but it was amazing to see where the Lord is taking us and where we have come from. During this function, (the Christmas party) I was remembering how I used to go into the community begging parents to bring their children to school...I was amazed to see those who took me to the police, claiming I had come into the community to kidnap children are now participating fully and one of them is the teacher!

Let me take you through in what was inspired on that day. We had over 500 people who came and participated. There was a competition for the children in preparing local food, ball games, cake cutting, graduation ceremony, reading and writing competitions, games, all with children proudly wearing their colors. This is very amazing to see what the Lord is doing in Makuluba through you. We are praising the Lord for your support in all ways. Keep on praying for next year's plan.”

The children hold up their report cards showing they can graduate to the next grade. Most parents in the village will never read or write, but they want better for their children.

A Message from Moses: “You may not realize how much your contribution is doing in Makukuba, but it was amazing to see where the Lord is taking us and where we have come from. During this function, (the Christmas party) I was remembering how I used to go into the community begging parents to bring their children to school...I was amazed to see those who took me to the police, claiming I had come into the community to kidnap children are now participating fully and one of them is the teacher! Let me take you through in what was inspired on that day. We had over 500 people who came and participated. There was a competition for the children in preparing local food, ball games, cake cutting, graduation ceremony, reading and writing competitions, games, all with children proudly wearing their colors. This is very amazing to see what the Lord is doing in Makuluba through you. We are praising the Lord for your support in all ways. Keep on praying for next year's plan.”

